The client was clear on what they wanted from the space; a bright, colourful area with quirky and playful elements whilst maintaining their brand image. They required an open-plan office containing a tea point with a break out area and a small amount of client-facing meeting rooms.

We provided 3D visuals of the office layout so that the client was able to ensure the design and fit-out were consistent with the brand's bright color scheme. We then specified every element of the fit-out from the tea point and flooring to the aesthetic finishes.
